A vertical poster for a concert at R.F.K. Memorial Stadium in Washington, DC. The background is a textured, brownish-orange color. At the top, the text "Electric Factory Concerts Presents" is in small letters. Below that, the names of the bands "Grateful Dead" and "Allman Brothers Band" are in large, bold, black letters. Underneath, the names "Doug Sahm" and "Wet Willie" are also in bold black letters. The central part of the poster features a black and white illustration of a group of people in a desert landscape, some sitting on the ground and some standing. At the bottom, the venue "R.F.K. Memorial Stadium" and city "Washington, DC" are listed. Below that, the ticket price "$7 General Admission Each Day" is shown. Further down, it says "Tickets on sale now." and "Tickets available at all locations." At the very bottom, it says "For information dial 504-7904".
